

Saugeen Shafts Christmas Tournament Results

Saugeen Shafts held their 14th Annual Kids Christmas Tournament last Sunday to end the school break for the kids. Students from the weekly classes competed in three different skill divisions in different disciplines. Bill Embury, the head instructor for Saugeen Shafts, said that this along with the March Break Tournament is designed to give the kids a taste of what a tournament is while still having fun. Saugeen Shafts instructs over eighty kids per week in the sport of archery, from the beginner level, to advanced level, as well as for parents and their children.

Many of the archers shot personal best scores and even one Perfect '30' (all three arrows in the ten ring) was shot by Brianna Toms. For many of the archers it was the first time shooting sixty arrows rather than their usual thirty. The Advanced Boys Compound division had a very tight race as Noah Dew edged out his brother Jon for first place by only one point.
